

November 17, 2010
Mazda Motor Corporation
Corporate Communications Div.

In Response to Media Reports on November 17, 2010

Today, news reports claimed that Ford Motor Company plans to sell shares in Mazda. These reports were not based on officially disclosed information. At the present time, no specific actions have been decided and there is nothing to announce.

Mazda will announce any important developments at the appropriate time going forward.